Coping With Endings
Fall 2020 Zoom Workshop for Students

Dealing with endings (of relationships, jobs, school) is one of the most difficult things we do. It is especially hard when we don’t choose for something to end. When this happens we are distressed; we come to negative conclusions about ourselves and may feel that we are a threat to ourselves or others. Come to our workshop to learn coping strategies, and be on your way to a happier you!
